Rev. Christa Landon  UU Church of Minnetonka	Rational Paganism meets Earth-Centered Humanism in the Twin Cities	Pagans and UUs have more than demographics in common, and the differences between these two living traditions can make a fruitful dialog. Still, a 2,000 year old misinformation campaign has led to misunderstandings and consequent alienation. So what happens when Pagan UUs introduce UUs and Pagans to each other? How can we teach congregational polity to Pagans who may have little experiences of enduring religious institutions? How do we welcome the Witch Next Door? Rev. Christa Landon, D.Min., was ordained as a high priestess in 1972 and as a UU minister in 1995. She has been working to weave together the Pagan and UU communities since 1984.	Rev. Sally Patton Editor of Involve	Honoring the Special Gifts, Needs and Different Ways of Learning of All Our Children	In this workshop we will explore what it means to create a welcoming ministry for all our children, including those with special needs. Ministering to children with special needs is a reminder that all of us and all children have different ways of learning and different ways of responding to the world. Ministry to all our children improves and flourishes as a result of our creative inclusion with special needs children. Rev. Virginia Wolf  <hr/> Unitarian Universalist Fellowship of Eau Claire	Is Our Church Gay?	We are sometimes asked by outsiders if ours is the gay church. Sometimes our children ask us this question. Where does the question come from? Why does it make us uncomfortable? Have you heard other members of your church say that they don't want to be known as the gay church? If you are heterosexual, how would you feel about being in the minority in your church; if homosexual, about being in the majority? Why don't we celebrate ourselves as the gay church? Come explore this question as a means of deepening our commitment to pluralism. Presenter: Rev. Virginia Wolf, Minister, lesbian, partner of Carol Scumacher for 26 years, mother of two, grandmother of two, sometime queer activist.
